Oak Leaves 1956

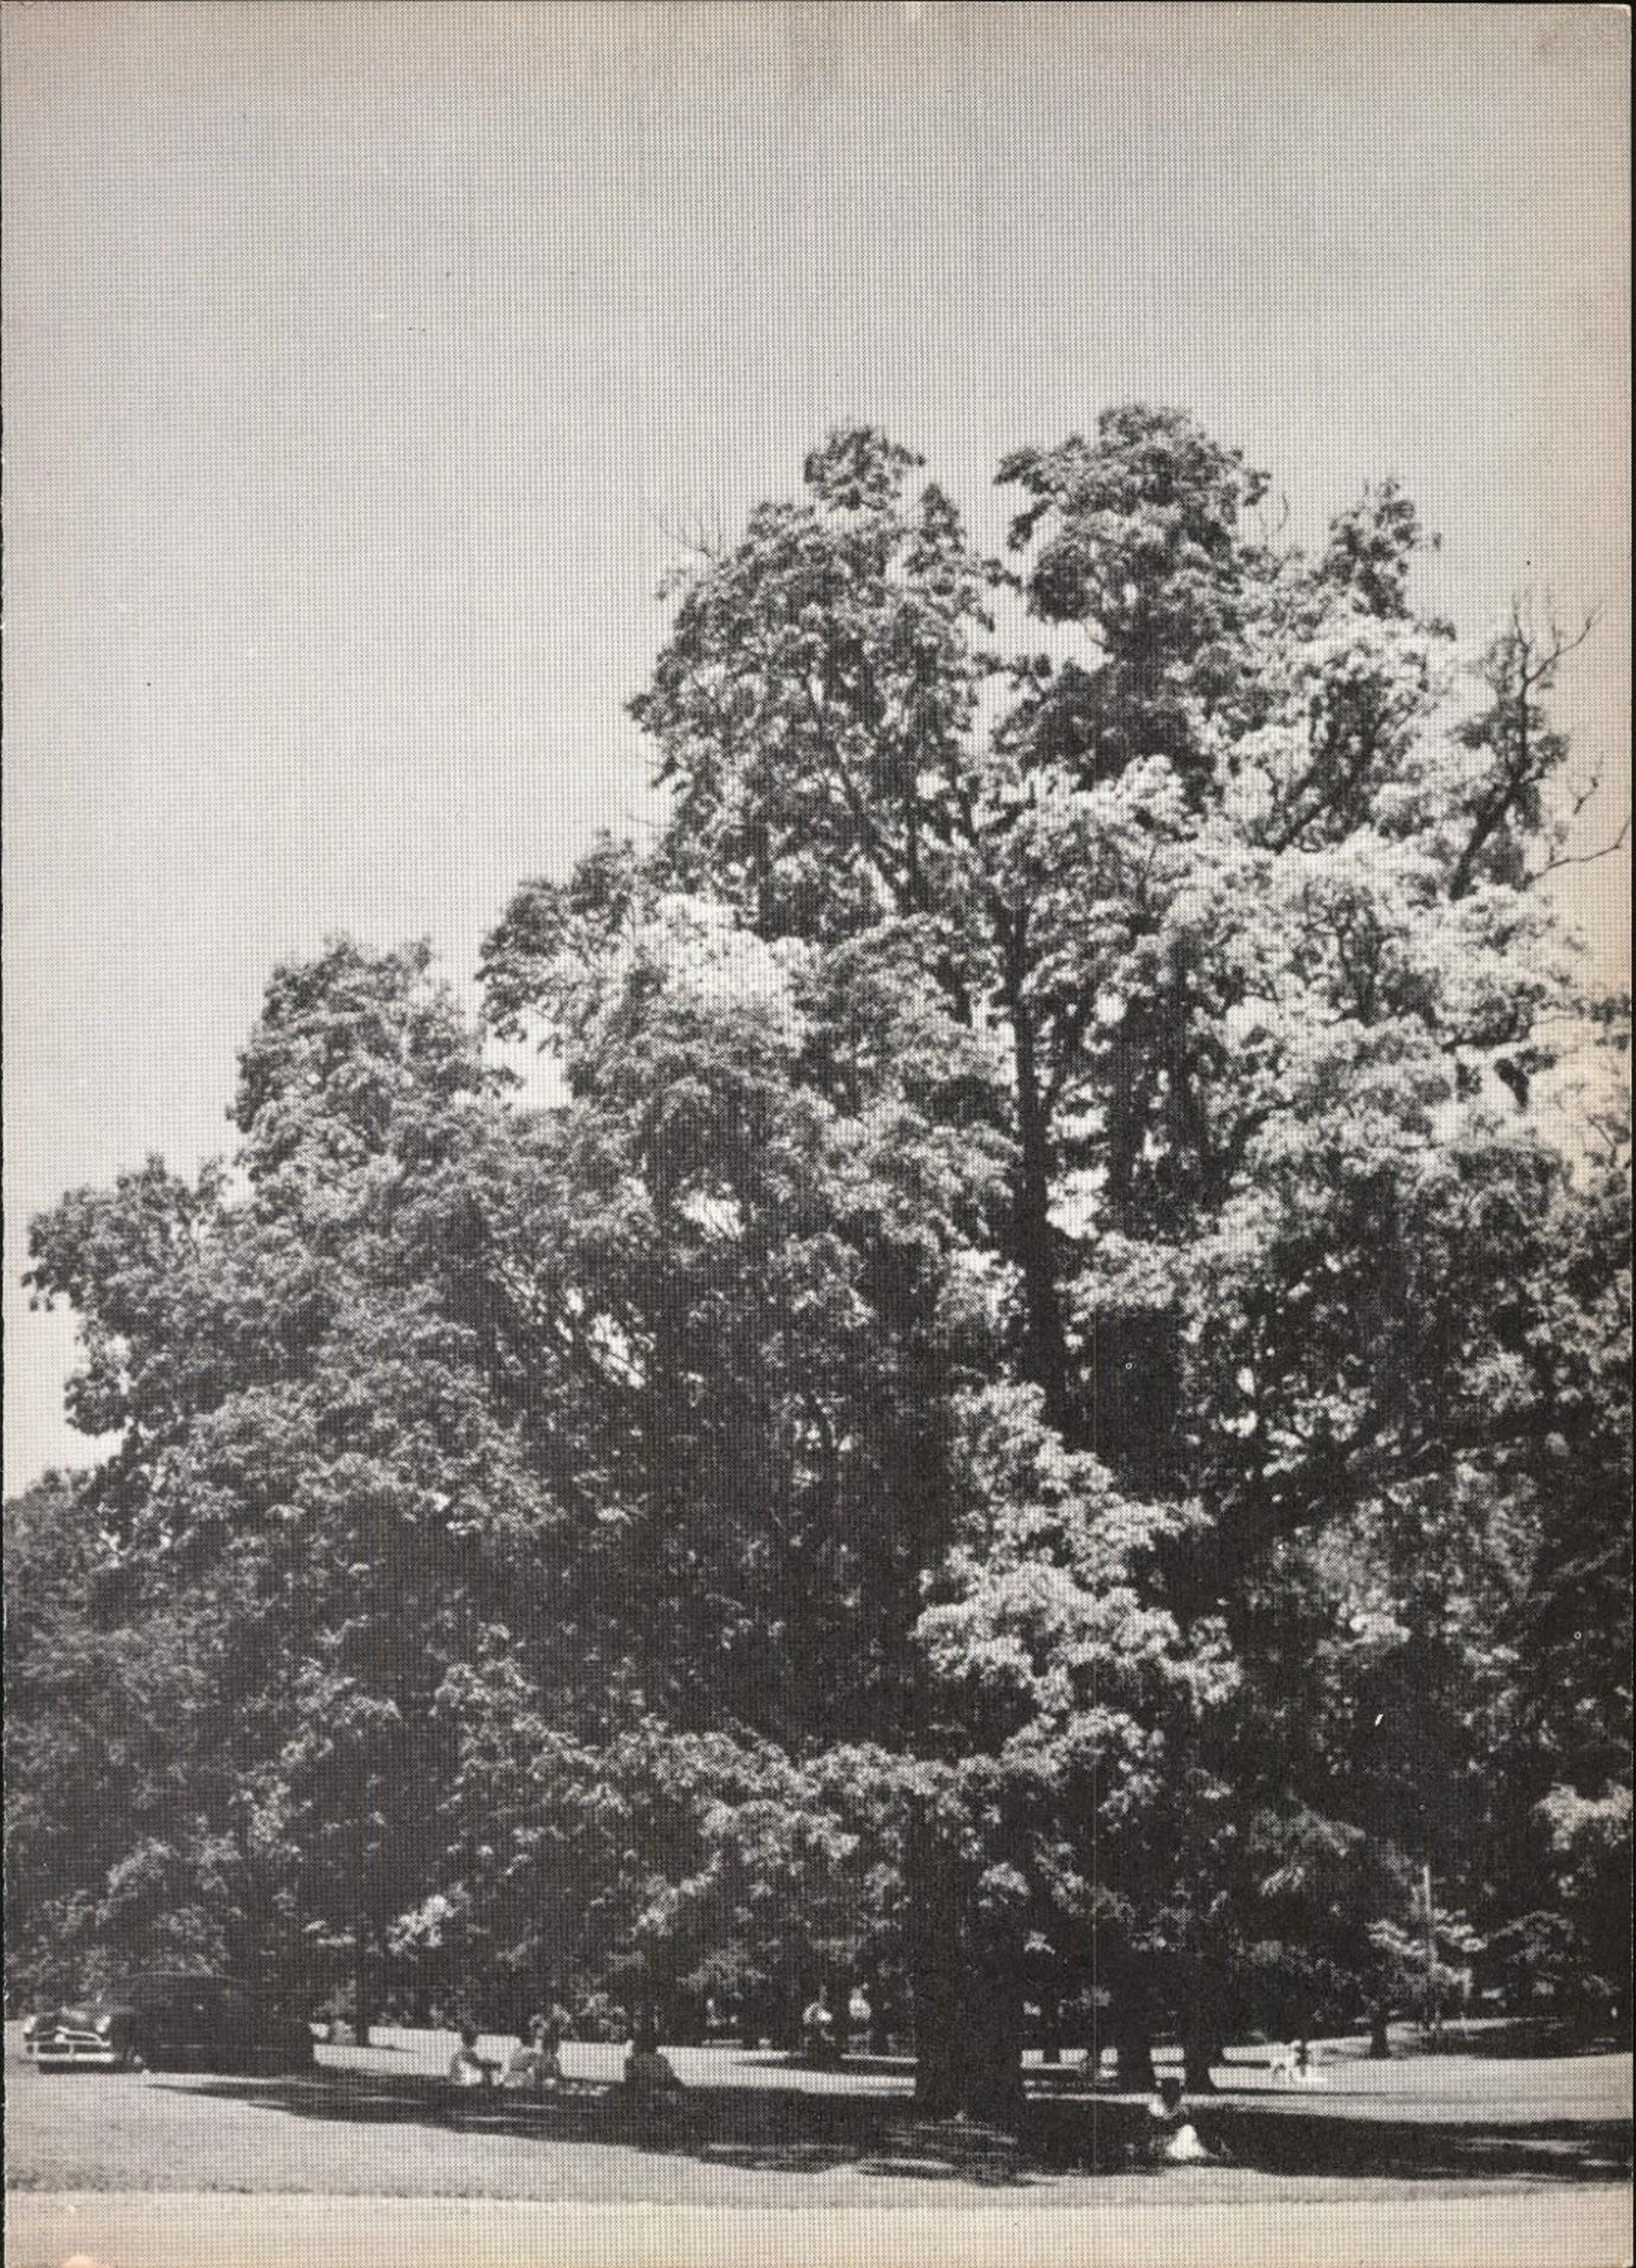
Alma Mater

Guarded by the old Oak Tree,
Symbol of our goal;
Steadfast as our pride in thee,
Its strength will write our scroll.

Chorus:

Fayetteville-Manlius
Truth shall be thy light.
Pledge we now our loyalty,
To colors Green and White!

Raise we now our voice in song,
To thee a tribute bring;
Join the ever-growing throng - - -
Let all who love thee sing!



Ann,
We have had loads of fun in school. I hope it continues next year and after school. I'll take care of Don for you; but you keep your hands off him. He's mine forever. Can looking forward to that double-date also. I hope it's soon.

Good luck in History.

Love,
Clara

Foreword

The class of 1956 and the Oak Leaves Staff, in presenting this yearbook, hope that the new format based on the seasons will adequately express the theme, a typical year at F.M. We also hope that we have made this book as much yours as ours.

Dedication

This is to you, Miss Conklin.

We are grateful to you for showing us the true value of study and the importance of our senior year. Respected as teacher, advisor, and friend, you have helped prepare us for life. Our appreciation may not always be apparent, but it is there.

FALL

These People Started Us in Fall

BOARD OF EDUCATION in the district office in Manlius at one of their Monday night meetings. Front Row, left to right: Mr. Harold Langford, Mr. Francis Costello, Mr. Leslie Lowenberg, Mrs. Robert Cook and Mr. Daniel Kelley. Second Row: Mr. Jack Cottrell, Mr. Robert Miller, Mr. John Meacham, Mr. Raymond VanGiesen, and Mr. Marvin Cisler. Absent is Mr. Donald Nimmo.

MR. VAN GIESEN, supervising principal, is seated in his office in Manlius.

Those with talent (and those without) find a chance to explore the world behind the footlights with Miss Downey in the dramatics department, while Miss Lester introduces them to art and Mr. Rhoades to music.

Then the Faculty Took Over

Citizenship Education classes study history, geography and current problems of the world and United States. Teachers and their classes are Mrs. Herman, freshmen; Mr. Bilek, freshmen, sophomores, and juniors and Mr. Wheeler, juniors and seniors.

CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION DEPARTMENT meets in the room of the department head, Mr. Wheeler.

IT'S REPORT CARD DAY in Mr. Wheeler's Cit. Ed. 12 Class!

MR. OSTERHOUDT is supervising the operation of one af the many practice machines.

Students learn general business practice from Miss Hughes who teaches secretarial practice, typing, and shorthand I and II, Miss Filtch, who guides bookkeeping, typing and business arithmetic students, and Mr. Osterhoudt, who instructs business law, introduction to business, office practice and salesmanship—business management classes.

Because a basic knowledge of English is necessary for everything, it is a required subject throughout school. Mrs. Buttel and Miss Denison start the freshmen out, while Mrs. Fallon and Mrs. McKinnon handle the sophomores and juniors, and Miss Conklin finishes off in the senior year.

For Annual Teacher's Scholarship

The Guidance Department supervises the courses taken and handles the schedule and attendance records. They have information on jobs and colleges available to students.

MRS. FARNHAM and MR. SAUNDERS, THE GUIDANCE COUNSELORS, are in their office looking over college bulletins.

THE EARLY MORNING RUSH in the guidance office.

Most Members Sponsored a Club

LISTENING ATTENTIVELY to a dictation is Miss Allen's French 1 class.

With the world getting smaller everyday, learning a foreign language seems to be a necessity. Miss Evans and Miss Allan give students the base with Latin and French. Miss Dennison teaches Spanish.

Gaining a basic knowledge of math from Miss Snell, students then advance to Mrs. Lehner and Mrs. Monroe. For those interested in advanced math, Mrs. Monroe is the one to see.

or Coached a Team

Mrs. Robinson and Mr. Matties supervise the physical education classes where students are kept alert and exercised. Everyone takes gym at least twice a week.

The student government group, Student Council, was as usual, very active this year. They sponsored an American Field Service student, for whom they raised money with the annual Showboat featuring the teachers' program complete with secret theme. A fund was established for students who need money in order to take part in the American Field Service program which sends students to European Countries. Student Council continued to support its war orphan, Myoung Won, as it has for the last few years.

Among its other projects, the council sponsored free dances after home basketball games, several mixers, and the annual Cabaret Dance. Something new in the money-making field for F-M was a Penny Carnival at which various organizations sponsored booths. The organizations connected with the Carnival made money, and everyone who went "had a ball."

While A. A. Promotes School Spirit

the Halls as We Followed Our Champions

The 1955 F-M football team shared first place in the new county conference with North Syracuse and Solvay, bringing the school its second straight football championship.

After a disappointing loss to North Syracuse in the season's opener, spirit, team play, and hard work brought the Hornets back to win the rest of their games.

Hi-lites of the season were:

A close win over a tough Solvay team which led 6-0 in the third quarter. F-M came back scoring twice on sustained drives, one the result of an onside kick.

The upset of a previously undefeated Skaneateles team by a decisive 20-0 score. This win put F-M in a tie for first place.

In the final game of the season the Hornets assured themselves of a tie for the championship by triumphing over Jamesville-Dewitt in what was the beginning of a strong rivalry.

The selection of several members of our team for positions on All-County teams. Bill Fenn, Paul Yeakel, and Tony Herloski made first string teams. Those chosen for the second teams included Bill Guild, Tim Fudge, and Wayne Brignall; while Fred Kirschenheiter, John Roberts, and Dave Coon received honorable mention.

The Junior Varsity, besides compiling a good record in playing their own schedule, were the unsung heroes who provided a rough scrimmage with the varsity when it was needed. Several of the players were promoted to the varsity for the final game.

Burdened by the difficulty of following in the footsteps of a championship team, the 1955-1956 Fayetteville-Manlius basketball team started out to make a record of its own. As a result of the newly-formed conference, the Hornets faced the toughest schedule ever.

The end of the first half of the season found the team tied for first place after winning all but one game.

However, due to increased competition and more experienced opposing teams, the Hornets finished third behind Solvay and East Syracuse. A loss to East Syracuse in the first round of the county playoffs ended a still successful season.

A Junior Varsity team that had plenty of height but little experience went through its season with a good record. Hard team play provided valuable know how for the varsity of tomorrow.

Music! Music! Music!

F-M students chosen by competitive try-outs represented the school at the state sectional music organization and participated in the final concert.

With Bob Snyder directing, Pep Band raised school spirit and the roof at football and basketball games.

Choir's major project for the year was raising money for new dark green robes by singing at the Christmas Concert. Besides receiving favorable comments at the music festival, the choir exchanged assemblies with other schools. Officers for the year were Paul Yeakel, president; Jay Hern, vice-president; Whicky Carpenter, treasurer; and Bobby Kirkwood, secretary.

A tough schedule confronted a track team which was composed mostly of under classmen. The team placed third in the county meet, being nosed out by East Syracuse by one point. Stew Evans, Dave Coon, and Wayne Brignall represented the Hornets in the Section III meet. With most of the team returning, next year's track team should be very successful.

Led by their captain and singles ace, Al McGuire, the F-M Tennis Team came through the season with a 3-2 record. McGuire lost only one match, the first in his high school career. Bert Hills and Bucky Meagher won a good share of the second and third singles, while John Poniatowski and Keith Brignall and Chuck Woodworth and Whicky Carpenter did a good job in the doubles.

During the Year

Installation of charter members at an impressive ceremony last June, 1955, marked the arrival of the Oak Chapter of the National Honor Society at Fayetteville-Manlius. Serving on the faculty committee which selected members were Mrs. Farnham, Mrs. Buttel, and Mr. Lewis. Chosen for character, scholarship, leadership and service, the original members planned installations of candidates in January and June with the help of their first officers: Bob Snyder, president; Bill Fenn, vice-president; Dick Fulmer, treasurer; and Mary Ellen Carlson, secretary. As an additional honor, members of the Honor Society are allowed to wear stoles over their gowns at graduation.

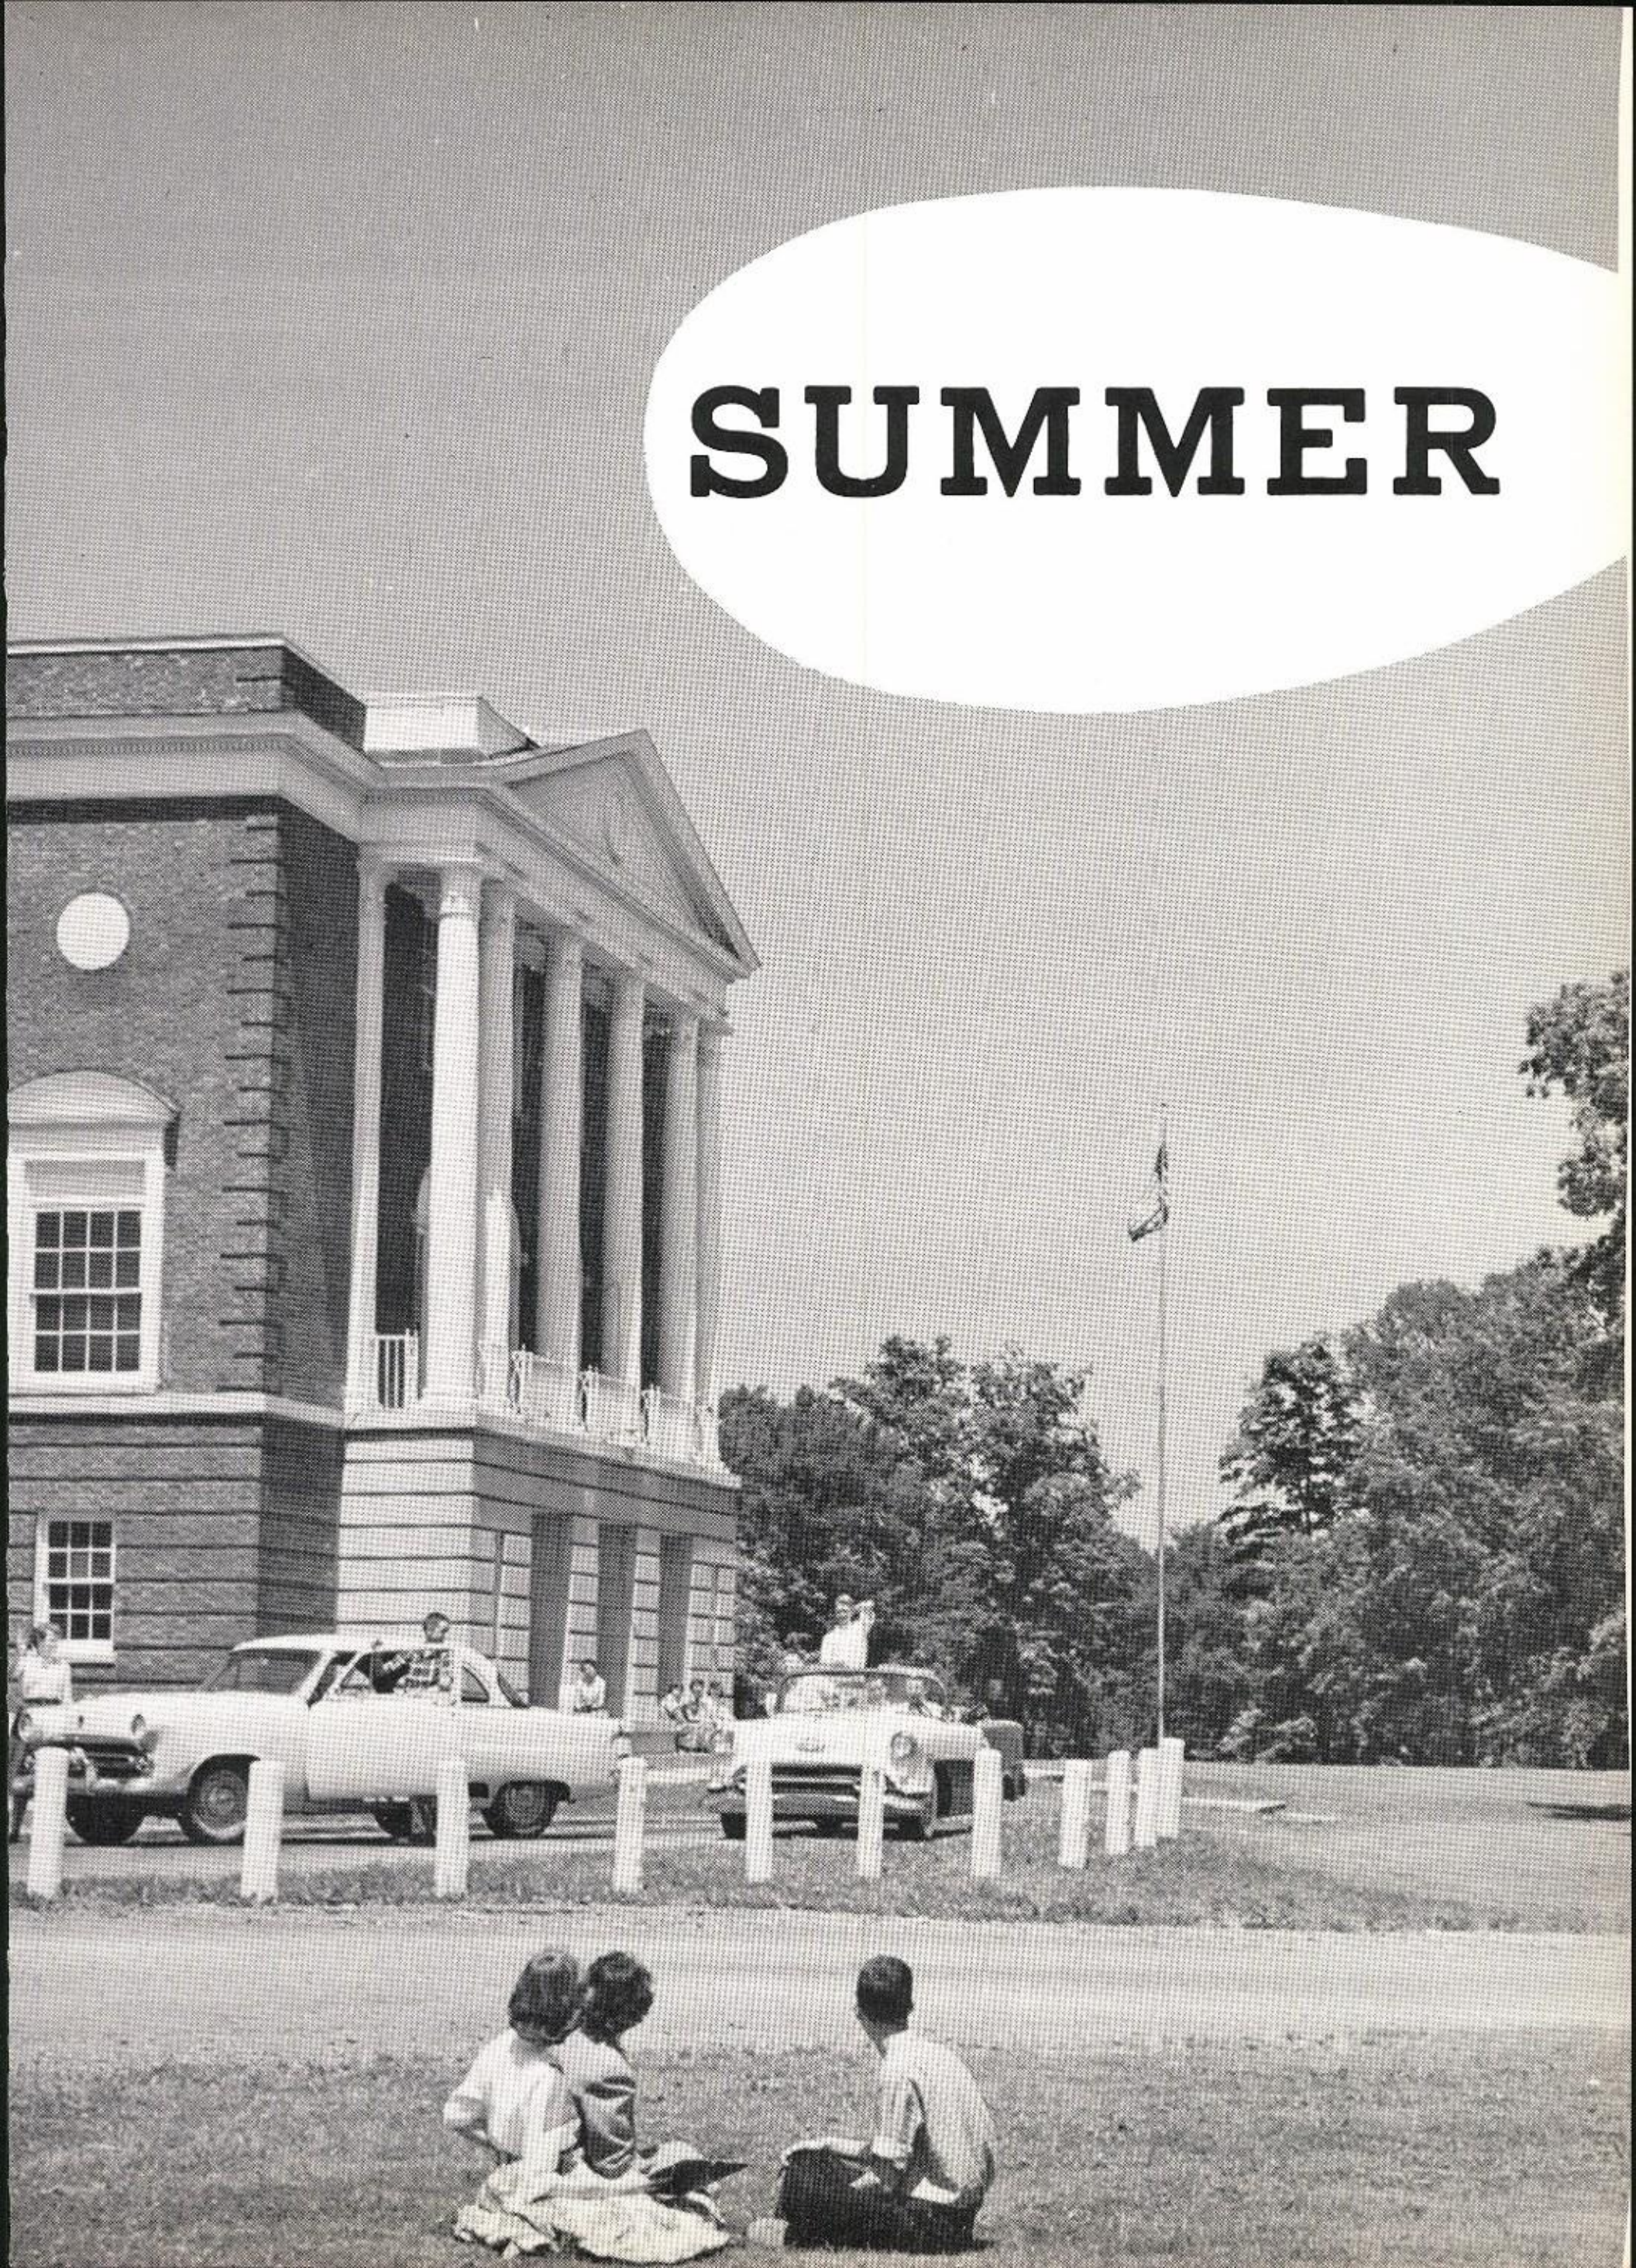
SUMMER



Moments to Remember

Every good story has a plot; in this case it's the story of what our class did in its four years of high school. Every story has characters: in this one there are ninety-seven, the class of 1956. And every story has a beginning.

Once upon a time, in 1952 when knights were late (for dates) and freshmen initiations were rough, the first chapter of our story began to take shape (before centralization). The Manlius edition of our class elected Pudge Dudley, president; Don Bligh, vice-president; Carol Trivelpiece, secretary; and Frank Giacondo, treasurer. Their major money-making scheme involved a gay extravaganza entitled the Frosh Frolic. In the other camp, Fayetteville, various projects, including the selling of Christmas cards, were carried on under the leadership of Bill Fenn, president; Audrey LaMontagne, vice-president; Penny Jones, secretary; and Bill Manning, treasurer. Their dance for the year was a spectacular (in compatible color) called Winter Wonderland.

In the next chapter the two schools centralized, and we became students of F-M and sophomores simultaneously. Leading characters in our second year were Bob Snyder, president; Nancy Nimmo, vice-president; Pete Lane, secretary; and Mary Ann Link, treasurer. Proving our ability to work together, we held two dances, something unique in either high school's history. "Sleighride" introduced the ideas of program dances and selling Christmas corsages. We also took pictures of the couples attending in an old-fashioned sleigh.

To raise money for soundproofing the gym ceiling, we "threw" a dance called appropriately "Mood Moderne," which was a noisy success. Our class further distinguished itself in the closing pages of this sophomore chapter by holding an "unofficial" picnic. A very busy year and we made a lot of money!

As upperclassmen we continued to fill the pages of our little saga. The most important items here were our fabulous Junior Prom and the election of Student Council president. As always, the candidates were juniors. Although Dick Marshall was elected, Mary Ann Link, Bob Snyder, and Anne Mason put up a great battle. We chose Bill Fenn to lead us as class president; Mary Ann Link, vice-president; Nancy Hill, secretary; and Tim Fudge, treasurer. According to traditions, a committee of juniors planned and managed graduation (with only one mishap)! Fran Staniec got the nod as best all-round girl and won the customary Elmira College Key.

The knights got later, (for dates), but initiations were a lot milder. Like all good things, initiations, too, came to an end for F-M. Although we originally expected a foreign student from France, we were pleased to welcome Bev Bourke from New Zealand. Still trying to get rid of the pencils and decals we had bought as juniors, we also decided to raise money by combining the traditional Senior Auction with a dance. It was called ingeniously the Auction-Dance. All these projects got a hand from our class officers: Tim Fudge, president; Fran Staniec, vice-president; Bobbie Kirkwood, secretary; and Don Bligh, treasurer. Closing the pages of the story of the class of 1956 were the Senior Ball and long-awaited graduation, planned for us by the juniors. It is customary for the senior class to leave the school a gift. This we will be very glad to do—if we have any money with which to buy one. It is also customary to announce in this section of the yearbook that we are leaving "good-ole F-M" to the underclassmen. So, as we can't take it with us, here it is.

Alma Mater

Guarded by the old Oak Tree,
Symbol of our goal;
Steadfast as our pride in thee,
Its strength will write our scroll.

Chorus:

Fayetteville-Manlius
Truth shall be thy light.
Pledge we now our loyalty,
To colors Green and White!

Raise we now our voice in song,
To thee a tribute bring;
Join the ever-growing throng - - -
Let all who love thee sing!
